

SAFETY AND MOBILITY IMPROVEMENTS ARE COMING TO CLEVELAND CIRCLE

Website: boston.gov/departments/transportation/cleveland-circle-improvements

The Boston Transportation Department is working to improve the Cleveland Circle intersection this year and in the future to make the area safer for pedestrians and bikers, more efficient for deliveries and more welcoming to surrounding businesses, visitors and residents.

We're making it happen by centering neighborhood residents and local groups like the Allston Brighton Health Collaborative, and collaborating with adjacent City of Boston departments. We've seen and heard from you that the intersection is unsafe, and we're listening to you to enact change.

What we plan to change and when: This year, the goal is to use restriping, flex posts, signal changes and signage to increase safety and efficiency at the intersection. In the near future, the intersection will be fully reconstructed based on the results of short-term changes.

We want to hear from you: If you have had challenges moving around and through Cleveland Circle whether walking, biking, driving or taking the bus, please engage with us!
