Boston University Initiative for Literacy Development (BUILD)	The BUILD partnership is a collaboration between Boston University and Boston Public Schools. It pairs BU students with BPS students from preschool to fifth grade to help them develop the reading and writing skills necessary to succeed. BUILD's mission is to provide elementary school students with more opportunities to be engaged in literacy development through tutoring and literacy-enhancing activities while providing a meaningful tutoring experience for University students working in public schools and community centers. This includes internal funding for non-work study salaries, coordinator scholarships, and operational expenses.	$ 74,020	In-Kind	Ongoing	Boston Public Schools	Boston University	City-wide	Education	Boston Public Schools
BU Jumpstart	The BU Jumpstart program is made up of highly trained, motivated, and passionate university students who are paired with preschool children in caring and supportive one-to-one relationships. In partnership with BU Wheelock College of Education & Human Development, university students mentor 3-to-5-year-old children in Boston community preschools. Students read stories, sing songs, and play games that support young children's language, literacy, and social-emotional development. Jumpstart provides a high-quality, comprehensive program that focuses on the development of the child, their family, and the university student serving with this national organization as an AmeriCorps member. Through these program areas—school success, family involvement, and future teachers—Jumpstart works to create an environment of lifelong learning for children. The amount includes salaries for administrative personnel and the course instructor.	$ 30,640	Both	Ongoing	Boston Youth	BU/Jumpstart, Inc.	City-wide	Education	Jumpstart, Inc.
