

Health Disparities vs Health Inequities

Health Disparities are preventable differences in access to health care, health, and health outcomes among population groups.

Health Inequities are health disparities that are deemed unfair or stemming from some form of injustice.

– adapted from the National Institute of Health